REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TOWN LIBRARY

The past year has been uneventful, no new bequests have been received and the library has continued its normal growth.

One hundred fifty-one new books have been added to the library and North Walpole branch, combined, making a total, Dec. 31, 1922, of 11,983.

The circulation has continued about the same as the past few years though falling off slightly from last year which showed an exceptional increase.

We regret to announce that we have lost the services on the committee of one of its most indefatigable workers, Mrs. Quincy, formerly Miss Mary H. Bellows, who resigned on account of leaving town, but the vacancy is most admirably filled by the appointment of Mr. Louis R. Lincoln.

The reading room has been well patronized the past year, though a few of the magazines will be missed the coming year, owing to the death of the donors.

The present shelf room is again becoming filled to capacity, necessitating the purchase of more book stacks which will be done when the next appropriation is available.

A year ago the town voted to have the selectmen install a cement curbing in front of Library building but up to date nothing has been done owing to the inability of the selectmen to determine the proper curb line and they are now awaiting the advice of the Division State Highway Engineers.

The committee would respectfully recommend the appropriation of $600.00 for the ensuing year.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board:

I herewith submit my third annual report on the condition of the schools and there is added a summary of events, some of which here become a matter of record.

BUILDINGS

The two large buildings at North Walpole were covered on the outside with one coat of paint, the smaller of the two receiving two coats on the northerly side. Both buildings were thoroughly gone over and all sprung or loosened clapboards nailed down before the paint was applied. Many minor, but very necessary repairs were made about the buildings in general. The interior of the larger building was entirely renovated with paint, varnish and calcimine after having been thoroughly cleaned. Some very profitable repairs were made on the roofs about the gutters. These were put in such shape that the water is thrown out away from the building rather than seeping back in under the clapboards. Two new windows were added to the front rooms on the north side of the larger building. In general the appearance and sanitation as well as the preservation of the buildings is much better.

The school of Drewsville has had two windows made wider and replaced so that the light there now is plentiful and comes from the left side. This building was renovated throughout with varnish and calcimine.

At Walpole village no major or minor repairs have been made to the buildings proper for some time. The heating apparatus in the primary building gave out in December of this year, making it necessary to install the little boiler taken from the large building some years ago. The change was made during the Christmas recess so that there was no interference with the school program. The boiler seems to be taking care of the building even in the worst weather. As last year, I wish to call attention to the outside condition of the buildings.

TEACHERS

There are a total of twenty-four teachers in the Walpole schools, divided among the schools as follows: High school, six; elementary, seventeen; special, one. There have been, during the year, three changes and replacements for various causes. Changes are always to be expected but all efforts to avoid them are being made.

HIGH SCHOOLS

North Walpole high school has been approved for the second time by the commissioner. The work there is going on as good as any work in first year high school. The pupils are interested and industrious. The teachers and principal are somewhat handicapped because of the fact that while they work under the N. H. plan the pupils are being fitted for a Vermont high school. A situation which could be much relieved with another year of high school work. This could be done with little, if any, added expense, for the tuition saved would offset the salary of a teacher. It would be better for the children's future school work for they must mature considerably in the added year and would be carried by the first two critical years of high school.

Walpole high school lost five of its teachers last June. Scarcely any of the five could have been brought to continue by a money inducement. Their minds were made up on other work. This does not mean that they were unsatisfied with their living conditions but were looking for a larger or different field of service. This year started with five new teachers for the junior and senior high. Inevitably, the school at the opening suffered in some respects. It was a difficult matter for the headmaster in a new school, under a state policy new to him, to organize and unify the work of his own classes as well as that of other new and inexperienced teachers. That the work has gone on so well is a credit to Mr. Hough and his assistants and especially to the one teacher who remained. A large enrollment added to the confusion. There are about seventy-five registered, making the senior high school room over crowded. It is a difficult thing for an experienced teacher, even, to teach a class well and supervise a study hall at the same time. The task is greater for beginners. The staff has worked hard to maintain the high standard of the school and have succeeded in doing so. The per cent of the class of 1922 who have entered normal school and college is creditable. The school is approved by the New England College Board and by the State Board.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

The work in the elementary school program is being carried on by a body of teachers who are interested in their chosen field. The three "R's" are not being neglected to my knowledge and in addition the progress made in geography, history, spelling, hygiene and civics is standard. The work in music is all that could be desired. The public display last December in the town hall would probably bear me out in that contention, although the children were not under normal circumstances. The purpose of the whole affair was to give a greater motive to the work.

The attendance of a few families is regularly poor, and constant urging is necessary to keep the children in school.

The per cent was, however, last year 95 for the town, a mark which speaks well for the majority dispite the handicap of a few in holding down the average. There were 650 pupils registered in our own school with an additional 51 in Bellows Falls high.

HEALTH WORK

Much more can be and needs to be done for the children along the lines of medical inspection and follow up work. The inspection is little better than nothing without the personal interview at home with the parent. In no other way can the necessity of action for a sound body in order to get an alert mind be brought about. The problem of health, like that of accident prevention, is a problem of human conversation, and is vitally connected with education as well as with the whole social policy. Health, in a constructive sense, is a matter of education since it can result only from the development of habits, ideals, attitudes, and points of view in the individual. I should recommend union with some other town for a permanent health worker in the near future.

In conclusion allow me to thank the citizens for kind public opinion, the school board for its many considerations and the teachers and pupils for hearty cooperation and support.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM J. ENGLISH,
